

Poetry.

John Alcock.

John Alcock, my son, John,
When first we were acquainted,
I had money in my pocket, John,
But now, you know, I have none, I've spent it all in trying you, Because I loved you so.
But mark how you have treated me, John Alcock, my son!

John Alcock, my son, John,
You've been too long together,
You must now take me home, John,
And I will take another.
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John.

John Alcock, my son, John,
I've been too long together,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John,
I've been too long together, John.

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

John Alcock, my son, John,

The Free Press.

GEO. W. & C. G. BENEDICT,

EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 4 1866.

Equality of Rights.

Senator Edmunds, in his speech on the Colorado bill, which we copy from the Congressional Globe, announces the creed of Veritas, in his refusal to allow race or sex to be a proper ground of distinction between the law. Social distinctions there may be, and necessarily be, intelligence, education, worth, of course make differences of standing and influence, and nowhere are such grounds of eminence more fully recognized than here. But let the color of no man's skin be a ground for denying him his rights before the law, any more than the color of his hair or of his coat. Such is the true republicanism of Vermont, and always has been. There were unquestionably strong reasons why the republicans of the Senate should desire greatly to augment their strength, in the contest with the Executive, which is growing more pronounced and latter as time goes on, but there were also strong grounds of objection, which were before this session caused the rejection of Colorado, and which taken in connection with the defect in her constitution, make reason enough why she should wait. And we believe the action of our Senators in the matter, will have the approval of their constituents.

Mr. Edmunds' remarks are described by "Piercy" of the Boston Journal, as "respectively eloquent, able and to the point." When he closed, Mr. Sumner rose and thanked him for the noble stand taken by him in defense of human rights. Mr. Sumner then offered a proviso that the act should not take effect until there should be no distinction of color in the new State at the ballot box, and all persons should be equal before the law, but it only received seven yeas, among which were those of both the Senators from Vermont. The bill was further opposed by Senator Hendricks on the ground of irregularity attending the adoption of the State Constitution, and by Senator Johnson, on account of the insufficiency of the population.

As a story is good for nothing half told, we will give another additional particular, which will serve to show how well ap-proposals are made, and how they are handled. We have recorded, that Mr. Stark was reading the "Liberator" of yesterday.

On the 11th of the following November, a bullet was fired at the young man, who was very severely wounded. He was carried to his home, and lay for some days in a precarious condition. He was very anxious to see the "Liberator," and asked for it. It was brought to him, and he read it with great interest. He was very much pleased with it, and said that it was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and said that it was the best paper he had ever read. He was very much pleased with it, and said that it was the best paper he had ever read. He was very much pleased with it, and said that it was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

He was very much pleased with it, and

said that it was the best paper he had

ever read. He was very much pleased

with it, and said that it was the best

paper he had ever read. He was very

much pleased with it, and said that it

was the best paper he had ever read.

President's policy and take the office, does not start off very strong. Though young, and small of size for a National

One, it is already split into two factions.

One, led by Governor and Assistant

Postmaster General Randall, is for the instant admission of all Southern members of Congress that can take the oath. The other, led by Montgomery Blair, is for the abolition of the oath and for the admission of only Southern representatives who are willing to swear allegiance to the Government. One wing is growing because the cupboards, who according to the programme were to keep out of their boat till the conservative republicans get it well under way, have jumped in and swamped their frail bark, before it had fully started.

The other wing wants a little display of republicanism of any stripe as possible, and is blaming the President because he doesn't work the guillotine faster and give the places to Johnson Democrats.

In a word, the attempt to form a third party is a failure. This is as might have been expected. Till the issues are clear are fairly at rest, two parties are all that can live, and the nation will still be divided into Republican Union men, on the one hand, and the Democrats, again practically reunited with the rebels, on the other.

The New Tax Bill.

The reduction in taxes by the new bill drawn by Mr. Morrill and presented by him on Wednesday, will amount, as estimated, to one fifth of the amount at present ex-